

Russian Martial Arts SYSTEMA in Kiev

SYSTEMA in Kiev involves the military experience of modern Russian warriors and the training experience of the Russian Special Forces. It was founded by Mikhail Ryabko, Colonel of the Russian Special Mission Unit, who trained from the age of five by one of Stalin's personal bodyguards, and was involved in the special operations at the young age. He was a tactical commander of hostage-rescue teams, counter-terrorist operations, and armed criminal neutralization. Thus he built this combat and surviving art on the rich experience of the former USSR KGB, SWAT or special mission militaries, which no doubt had a severe history and trials.
